Selectman Greenberg Seeks Re-Election

(Townsmen Staff Report)

Selectman Milton Greenberg, 46 Sagamore Drive, completing his first term on the board, announced this week he would be a candidate for re-election in March.

Greenberg, in obtaining his nomination papers this week, said his decision to seek a return to another three year term was based on his desire for an opportunity to continue to be of service to the community.

He said that he felt the issues to be faced in the years ahead center around taxes and home rule, two issues to which he has been attentive to during his first term.

The candidate is president of GCA Corporation, an industrial company headquartered in Bedford.

A graduate of New York University, Mr. Greenberg holds a master's degree in Public Administration from Harvard University. He was director of Geophysical Research for the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories for ten years prior to founding the GCA Corp., in 1958.

He has been a member of the Science and Technology committee of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

While in the U.S. Government service, he served on many national and international committees.

Milton Greenberg

He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Associate Fellow of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics and a member of the Presidents' Association.

Selectman Greenberg is listed in Who's Who in America, World Who's Who in Commerce and Industry and in American Men of Science. He is a veteran of World War II and was awarded the Army Commendation Medal. He also holds the Air Force Medal for Exceptional Civilian Service.

Married to the former Maxine Baer, the couple has three children.

Hill Seeks School Committee Return

Frank J. Hill, Jr.

(Townsmen Staff Report)

Frank J. Hill, Jr., 53 West Parish Drive, has announced his candidacy for election to the school committee.

In announcing his intentions of seeking a return to the committee, Hill lashed out at what he called "The Griggs Majority," on the current board. Hill was defeated in a close vote a year ago by John G. Wragg and John F. Lyons, who are apparently considered to be coupled with the present Chairman Frank Griggs.

Hill said he decided to run because he believes the primary role of the school committee is setting educational policy. Apart from the pressing issues of smoking and lice, the Griggs majority has paid scant attention to education during the past year, Hill states.

The "back to basics" drive has

FinCom Changes Among Town Meeting Items

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Voters will face a warrant containing 74 articles, 21 of them dealing with street acceptances, when the annual town meeting convenes, this year on Monday, April 1.

Outward appearance of the warrant items indicates the possibility of a lack lustre annual session, unlike those of recent years, with little preliminary indication of major controversy.

About the only items which could stir debate are three inserted by Former Town Manager Richard J. Bowen dealing with the Finance Committee, its duties and powers, and the reappearance of the Flood Plain zoning proposal by the planning board.

Major money articles which will be considered at the session, moved this year to April 1 to have a better concept of money from state and federal sources to determine effect on the town's tax rate, include elimination of the Ballardvale Treatment plant and tying in with the town sewer line, at an estimated cost of $130,000.

There will be the usual annual request for drainage improvements at $100,000; $200,000 to improve water lines, $120,000 to rebuild sections of Cross Street; $50,000 for rebuilding the bathroom at Pumps Pond and $70,000 for renovations to town hall.

There will also be consideration of an article asking $310,000 for acquisition of some 75 acres in the Lowell Street, High Plain Road area for general town use, possibly for recreation and school use.

Bowen Items

The articles submitted by Former Manager Bowen, a resident of Bannister Road, deal with an increase in the size of the Finance Committee from seven members to nine and limiting their power at the October town meeting.

The FinCom currently has veto power over any articles dealing with the appropriation of funds at the October session. While the fall session must be held by town bylaws, statute dictates it to be a special town meeting, which allows the FinCom to invoke their veto power.

The veto action is only valid at special sessions.

Bowen's article asks that the power of the FinCom be the same at the October meeting as at the annual town meeting.

Such action was presented to town meeting previously, at an October session, and was defeated after considerable

Youth Effort To Curb Smoking Is Effective

By Linda S. Corbett

Friends who smoke together, choke together, according to the sign in a downtown Andover window - - and equally ominous messages appeared all over town this week as the Andover High anti-smoking campaign got into full swing.

The object of "Project Breath" has been to get students and parents - - in fact, the whole town - - to go cold turkey. And if a smoking pop can close his ears to the warnings at home, it's unlikely he'll be able to escape them outside. The student project has literally attracted nationwide attention.

In addition to local and Boston papers, news of the campaign has hit many New England radio and TV stations, and High School Principal Philip Wormwood has reported inquiries from Newsweek Magazine and the Christian Science Monitor.

Project Breath committee members have appeared on a Lawrence radio show, as well as WCVB-TV. WBZ-TV interviewed them between pitches at East Jr. High Monday, and WNAC-TV was expected to cover last night's meeting with parents at the high school. Wormwood has been taped for WHDH radio, and Channel 4 has been broadcasting an editorial complimenting the youths on their project.

"It's all coming together really well," Tim Driscoll, student co-chairman along with Mark

Hamilton, said this week.

He added that a Marblehead official had called to bring pupils down to talk to the committee Wednesday; and that Manchester, N.H., was sending representatives to Parents' Night.

"Thank goodness I gave up smoking two years ago," Principal Wormwood joked this week, adding that he was pleased at the way the high school student body had accepted the campaign. "I think they're listening," he said.

Low Bidder Ousts Current Bus Driver

(Townsmen Staff Report)

After much ado about the bidding procedure - - and administration warnings that such action could somehow lead to fleet school buses - - the Andover School Committee Tuesday night voted to award the contract for an open route to George L. Vignault, at $46.70 per day.

The administration had recommended that the contract go to the present driver, James Wilson, at $47 per day, contending that the small difference was worth it for his experience.

Committeeman William Lane opened the discussion with his opposition "to taking anything other than the low bid," unless the reason was more than experience.

Committeeman William King questioned the bidding process itself since, he said, bringing the drivers in several times allows them to make a pretty accurate guess as to what price the others are going to come in at.

Committeeman John Wragg added that once you award other than the low bidder, "you are opening Pandora's box."

Business Manager Edward Weil said it all hinged on whether it was worthwhile for an individual to invest $9,000 to $11,000 plus finance charges and maintenance, if he had no way to spread the risk. He said the only way to make it pay is to be able to get a second three-year contract, without the tremendous charges of the first three years.

In the past, Weil said, the Andover schools have taken note of service and in the long run, that was what made the owner-operator system work and kept the prices down.

Is your 15-21 year old unwilling or unable to cope with school?

Every person who goes to school is different. But conventional schools aren't equipped to deal with all these differences successfully. As a result, it isn't surprising that many either leave school, bewildered and angry, or continue but never realize their potential.

When a bright young person finds that learning does not come easily, or that the process is intolerable, it may be because of the school environment. Or the student himself may be troubled. But in either case, there should be an alternative.

There is. The Center for Alternative Education is an accredited therapeutic, co-educational school staffed by professionals. It is an environment where caring for the individual's needs, and his need for an education, go hand in hand. It helps break down barriers to learning by getting the student in touch with himself and reality. Also, the Center provides careful guidance to help him realize his goals.

CAE is a non-threatening way back for high school dropouts and graduates, and college dropouts without direction. For those potentially good students, ages 15 to 21, it is a real alternative.

Make this year different.

Hill

been limited to making an educational shambles and financial wasteland of the school system testing program, Hill contends, adding that the testing program originally formulated by him in 1970 to evaluate and manage the school system, has become meaningless.

First used by Dr. Griggs to try to pit school against school prior to the Shawheen-Doherty renovations, the Griggs majority has implemented a program which its publishers insist was only 50 per cent relevant for Andover students - at a cost which approaches $100,000 in labor, $7,000 in material, and 40,000 hours of student time.

The Griggs majority promised to improve communications with other boards; although the School Committee has met with the Board of Selectmen, the Committee has neglected the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School Committee altogether, Hill said. Having taken an evening course at the Voke this year himself, Mr. Hill feels now as he did during his first term on the School Committee, that the "Voke" is an outstanding regional facility which should be more available to Andover students.

At the insistence of Committeeman William Lane, the School Committee set some tentative educational priorities last Fall. The Griggs majority has made no reference whatever to these goals in its budgetary reviews. Indeed, the School Committee has spent all its time to date on the expense portion of the budget which represents 15 per cent of the total and none on the salary portion which represents 85 per cent of the total. Mr. Hill supported reductions in budget increases as a review of recent budget history will show; however, to achieve a zero-tax-increase budget at the expense of the preventive maintenance and security of 40 million dollars in plant and equipment is fiscal irresponsibility.

Mr. Hill endorsed the joint renovation of the Shawheen and Doherty Schools during his first term. Although the project was probably the least expensive investment in program and plant in many years, the "fiscally-minded" Griggs majority worked hard to defeat the project. And now, although acknowledging that the population in the secondary schools is becoming critical, the Griggs majority will not even listen to a discussion of the portable classrooms which are being used so successfully in North Andover, classrooms for which state re-imbursement is possible.

Mr. Hill also believes that the Griggs majority has made inadequate provision for the impact of the recent special education legislation.

Finally, Mr. Hill believes that it is possible, as shown by his first term, to be both educationally progressive and financially conservative. He seeks election so that the School Committee, faculty, and parents may work together to counteract the unhealthy climate which has developed in the last year and typified by the recent Andover Education Association advertisement in the Andover Townsman.

Smoking

Wormwood added that he hadn't heard any unpleasantness from non-interested pupils. "They recognize the right of this group to do this," he said.

He also complimented the members of Project Breath committee on taking the campaign to the junior highs "on a personal basis."

"They're not taking the 'You'll die if you don't stop' approach," he said. "They're not carrying a bunch of statistics. They're just rapping."

Driscoll, who says of smoking, "Everybody tries it, but I never had the habit," seemed especially pleased at the response at the junior highs, where the youths voluntarily attended the rap sessions.

"Most really listened," he said. "Some even asked how they could stop."

When that question arises, Driscoll says they give the person printed reading materials, talk to him about it, help him find a reason to stop.

Meanwhile, back at the high school, Driscoll said an addition had already been tacked onto the "Pledge Sheet," because so many youths had signed their promise to quit smoking. And plans were being made for tomorrow's mock picket line around "The Well," the legal spot for lunchtime smoking, and Saturday night's dance for junior and senior high schoolers in the High School Gym.

Proceeds will be donated to the Cancer Society.

Due to the positive action of the student group, School Committeeman John Wragg Tuesday night asked the board to defer action on his smoking policy until the second meeting in March.

Because of the adverse reaction he received from the youngsters last fall when he proposed a no-smoking policy in the schools, Wragg had moved -- and the Committee agreed -- to table action until the second meeting in January, which was Tuesday night.

During this second deferment, he said, the same conditions still apply: that the schools will report monthly to the School Committee on the condition and use of the restrooms and smoking areas, on the number of smoking infractions and the action taken, on the positive leadership steps initiated by the administration, students and teachers, and on progress toward eliminating smoking in Andover schools.

When the School Committee walked out of their high school meeting room Tuesday night, they were met with still another poster gem "Little Orphan Annie's parents smoked," it said.

Bus Contract

If they can't count on the second three years, Weil said, the drivers would have to raise their prices for the first three years to compensate. This, he said, would make it tempting for the town to look at fleet buses.

The bidding specifications, he added, say they can take whichever bids they feel is in the best interest of the town.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert said it was a "far, far bigger question here than the low bid." The service the drivers give here is exceptional, he said, adding that some of them might start "running scared" if they knew they wouldn't be rewarded for that service by a second contract.

Lane asked Weil to talk to the state about giving up the bidding process altogether, and John Lyons said that he hadn't known "performance" was a factor in the bidding process. Vignault, it turned out, had previously served as a substitute driver.

Griggs called it a "lesson well learned," and the final vote was 3-2, with King and Griggs the opposing votes. Griggs "rationalized" his vote by saying that Wilson's bus was bigger, so he could go with the higher bid.

In other personnel action Tuesday night, the Committee accepted the resignations of Clifford Ross, junior custodian at Bancroft School and Mrs. Carolyn Shea, instructional aide at West Elementary.

Maternity leaves of absence were granted to Mrs. Barbara Neal, math teacher at West Jr. High, and Mrs. Kathleen St. Amand, first grade teacher at West Elementary, until the end of the current school year.

They also approved the appointments of Miss Shirley Baccardex as a permanent science teacher, Mrs. Charity Hotham, English teacher, and Mrs. Teresa Tevan, instructional aide, all at West Jr. High.

School Budget Hearings Set

The Andover School Committee had a lot of other things on its mind Tuesday night -- and didn't get to the budget as scheduled.

Public sessions on the budget -- which is now expected to come in around $8,242,000 -- have been slated for 7:30 p.m. on the next three Tuesdays -- Jan. 22, Jan. 29 and Feb. 5 -- at the high school.

Highway Planning Considered

The recurring question of regional planning was on the Selectmen's minds again Monday night -- this time in the form of the Joint Transportation Planning Committee of the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission.

The MVPCC, according to Chairman Roger Collins, who attended a recent meeting along with Assistant Town Manager Sheldon Cohen, has a contract with the State Department of Public Works to determine by July 1, through its subcommittees, a priority list of highway projects for the area.

The impression is that state funds for highway projects may be doled out according to the final list of priorities, and the Selectmen went on record again Monday night in favor of two projects already suggested -- a connector to the West Andover industrial park and an I-93 interchange at Lowell Junction. They spoke up against a third -- a Lawrence connector which would intersect with I-93 at approximately River Road in Andover.

The Selectmen were asked by Town Manager Maynard Austin to consider other highway projects that they would like to have put on the list, at the next transportation meeting.

In other action the Selectmen gave the go-ahead to Big W Transportation Co. to operate 45 passenger diesel buses on I-93 and its ramps in Andover, and on North Main Street from 495 to the Lawrence line.

The firm has been hired by New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. to transport employees from its various plants to a Learning Center in Marlborough.

The Board also voted to institute a study of the 46 private streets in town while the Board indicated its sympathy with Wall Street residents who appeared before them last week, the Town Counsel has since advised that nowhere is there any legal authority for the town to spend taxpayers' money to maintain private ways.

The residents had claimed that their street is practically impassable and had asked the town to grade and or gravel. A DPW official this week said it would cost the town at least $600 for six inches of gravel, the "bare minimum" necessary to make the road, which runs off of Beacon Street toward the country club, passable.

The Town Manager, in recommending the study, said he was concerned with two legal problems -- that the Town didn't have the authority, and the Town's liability to continue to maintain a private way once it had started.

Selectmen To Examine '74 Budget

It's not everyone's idea of exciting bedtime reading, but the Andover Board of Selectmen were asked Monday night to "sleep on" the 1974 budget -- and the direction they wish it to take in preparation for next Monday night's work session.

At that time they'll begin taking a close look at major items and major changes in the preliminary budget.

"I can cut the budget," Town Manager Maynard Austin said Monday night. "But to cut without direction is meaningless."

Meanwhile the Board has to decide whether to come in with a lower budget than last year, a fixed budget, an inflationary budget (up 7 percent), or an increased one.

Austin said he hoped to maintain the same level of services currently provided, and Assistant Town Manager Sheldon Cohen added that "We don't have any experimental or frilly items. We're at the bare bones now."

The Selectmen also took a quick look at special projects being planned for the warrant. They include recreation (resurfacing of West Jr. High tennis courts and improvements at Pumps Pond), $56,000; Ballardvale treatment plant, $130,000; rebuilding of High Plain Road, $140,000; school zone signs, $20,000; Town Hall renovation, $64,000; Haverhill Street sidewalk (from west of High Street up to the new "Y"), $24,000; public address system for town meeting, $5,500; storm drains, $100,000 and water mains, $200,000.

Course At Y

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will conduct a Red Cross Standard First Aid and Personal Safety Course beginning January 22 at the Andover YMCA building, 10 Brook St. Residents of Andover and North Andover, including adults and youth 14 years of age and over, may enroll at the Andover YMCA office; prior registration is required.

AFS Seeks Host Families

A ten month "experience" in international relations without leaving town - that's what American Field Service international scholarships is offering Andover families.

AFS Chapter President Georges Krivobok is searching for a family that will host an overseas student for the coming school year. The young person will live with the family and attend classes at the High School.

"The main requirement for an AFS host family is the parent's concern for and the interest in young people Mr. Krivobok says.

AFS International Headquarters in New York City carefully screens candidates who apply for a year stay in the United States. Students come here from over 60 countries. There are 2,622 students from abroad currently living and studying in the United States this year.

"The AFS program can be not only beneficial to the student, but also extremely rewarding to the host family," President Krivobok added. A family may: acquire new perspectives about another culture, experience the fun and understanding of a new continuing friendship and help a student discover the life of a community and a nation.

Aside from food costs and possibly some small incidental expenses the host family incurs no debt in hosting a student. The local Chapter raises an annual fee which covers AFS program expenses.

AFS also extends a monthly allowance directly to the student to cover incidental personal expenses. The organization makes sure host families will not have to pay medical bills for students. As a matter of policy, AFS extends medical coverage to its students.

Host families may take a monthly tax deduction in accordance with provisions made by the Internal Revenue Service.

Families interested in participating in the AFS experience for the coming year are urged to write or call Mrs. Vahey Gulezian, 10 Arthur Road, Andover, host family selection chairman, now.

American Abroad returnees Kevin Staid and Craig MacDonald and our foreign student from Brazil, Martha Mansor, are now available for speaking engagements. Any interested persons may contact Mrs. Donald Sagaser, 56 Chestnut St., Andover.

Ronald Salvadore, 37, of Haverhill, has been appointed an environmental technician with the health department.

Instruments Needed For New Program

At a recent meeting of "Parents of Children with Special Needs," Edward Grigoli, Director of Music in Andover, explained a pilot music program he plans to start for special classes.

Instruction will be limited to trumpets and percussion, such as drums. The committee is looking for used instruments because it is expected that a child will change interests in instruments or have to try several before finding one they can master.

Hoping that some families might have instruments in their home no longer used, they are asking anyone who might like to make a contribution to this effort to contact Mrs. Richard Barney.

Examining The Future

By Valerie Pierrat

On Jan. 9, ten students from the Bancroft School had a rendezvous with some of their future educators. The children did well in starting the new year this way for it gave them the opportunity to observe programs geared towards educational and communal awareness.

In co-operation with Mrs. Connie King and under the supervision of Mrs. Jane Collins and Mrs. Mary K. Hervol, our third graders experienced a realization of what is offered at the secondary school level. After an exuberant discussion with Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent of schools, and Edward Weil, business manager, the children then proceeded to the East Junior High School to meet with Dr. Richard McGrail, principal.

Because of the rather unattractive, formal construction of the school our visitors were undoubtedly counting their lucky stars. Nevertheless, they showed a very informal interest towards everything and anything. They did not seem to infer the implications of four sided classrooms and closed doors. Junior High had become an entity.

To enhance upon this day of enlightenment the children were invited to further enrich themselves at the Andover High School. At approximately eleven-thirty I was entrusted with an overly-enthused group of third graders. It was then logical if not down right necessary to proceed to the lunch room. I must add that our cafeteria was successful in ensuing intense gastronomic enjoyment.

After a very fulfilling lunch I entreated the children out of the cafeteria and into various classrooms where they were to meet some of my own teachers.

Suddenly, I also became an entity. The realism of being in such a big school and being surrounded by so many gigantic people evoked awesome feelings amongst many of the children. After having been toured from one over-sized room to another, our third graders were completely enthralled with the school, teachers, and students. I am skeptical but nevertheless hopeful that it will last.

Farnham Powers Second Win

By Rick Harrison

Take a third period powerplay, mix in a very costly defensive mistake by the opposition, stir well with some lively action around the net and you've cooked up the second victory of the season for the Andover High hockey team.

Mark Farnham's powerplay goal, which was actually knocked in by a Lawrence Central defenseman, provided the margin of victory in a 3-2 AHS decision during Merrimack Valley Hockey League play at the Billerica Forum.

Last week's other scheduled game with Chelmsford was postponed by the first of two snowstorms and will be made up, weather permitting, next Monday afternoon.

The triumph over winless Lawrence Central (0-8-0 in the league) boosted the Golden Warriors' record to 2-6-0 in MVC play and 2-6-1 overall. It also boosted Coach Dick Valle's sextet within one point of fifth-place Chelmsford.

Yesterday Andover began a rugged week by battling third-place Austin Prep (5-1-2), and Saturday afternoon the Warriors collide once again with unbeaten Billerica.

Ratelle Sharp

Lawrence Central can thank its goalie Frank Ratelle for making this a close game. Andover held a mammoth 34-10 shooting edge, but Ratelle came up with 31 saves including several beauties.

Coach Valle, already looking towards next year, played three goaltenders for one period apiece.

Kevin Campbell started and made three first period saves as Andover managed a 9-4 shooting spread.

Brian Moore took over in the second stanza and stopped two shots, blanking Central as the Warriors enjoyed a 10-2 advantage.

Regular goalie Chris Cullinan worked the third session, halting three Central attempts while AHS was holding a 15-4 shooting edge.

Hillmann Connects

Junior left winger Steve Hillmann broke the scoreless tie at 10:18 of the first period with a short-handed goal.

With Co-Capt. Ken Hubbell in the penalty box for tripping, Hillmann shoved the puck behind Ratelle during a goalmouth scramble after the netminder had stopped a Farnham attempt.

Central battled right back to tie it 1-1 with just three seconds remaining in the period.

The Red Raiders were again on the powerplay after Farnham collected Andover's fourth minor penalty of the opening canto.

John Begley fired a backhand from the right corner which barely trickled over the line for the tying tally.

Anderson's First

Junior defenseman Kurt Anderson got the lead back for the Warriors at 2:51 of the second stanza, notching his first goal on an unassisted effort.

The big rear-guard intercepted a Central clearing pass at the blue line, and proceeded to gun a long slapshot right on the ice and past Ratelle.

Hubbell, Farnham Robbed

Andover almost posted another short-handed goal towards the end of the middle period, but had to settle for the 2-1 lead after miraculous stops by Ratelle.

Hubbell was robbed on a clean breakaway attempt, and 15 seconds later Ratelle picked off a Farnham backhand after he skated across in front of the crease.

With 20 seconds remaining in the period and Andover operating on the powerplay, Farnham broke in alone on Ratelle but was tripped up by Central's Steve Boyle before he could take a good shot.

Winning Goal

Sparky Farnham pocketed the eventual winning goal just 11 seconds after the third period faceoff.

AHS was still on the powerplay when the sophomore wing's rebound from the left side was inadvertently guided in by a Lawrence Central defenseman.

Anderson registered the lone assist on the red-lighter, which padded the lead to 3-1.

Central closed the scoring at 7:26 of the finale, when Shaun Sawyer slipped the puck through the legs of kneeling Chris Cullinan.

Anxious Moments

There were a few more anxious moments for Andover rooters when Hillmann picked up a cross-checking penalty with 43 seconds to play. AHS had little trouble killing the penalty, however.

The Summary:

Carnell (Copter) Cooper, a former All-State basketball star at Andover High School, is leading the undefeated Yale freshman team in rebounding and ranks second in scoring.

The 6-4 leaper from Dillon, S.C. (he attended Andover High through a program called A Better Chance) has snared 14.2 rebounds per game, including 22 in the Bullpups opener at Connecticut and 21 against Fordham's junior varsity. He has averaged 16.2 points in Yale's first five games, with a high of 27 in the Blue's 86-72 win over the Brown frosh. Cooper also tallied 20 against Connecticut.

One of the most exciting players to play for Yale in a long time, Cooper led Andover to three conference championships and captained the squad as a senior. He is majoring in biology and hopes to become a surgeon.

Hubbell

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Bantam traveling hockey team, which has yet to surrender more than three goals to any opponent, received continued goaltending excellence from Jeff Hubbell as Steve April to raise its record 5-2-1 overall.

In most recent play Andover defeated Manchester, N.H. (2-0) and the Wachusett Bantams Worcester (3-1), while losing to the Providence Cubs (2-0) and battling Brunswick, Me. to a tie.

In its eight games to date Andover has outscored the opposition, 36-10, giving goalies Hubbell and April a combined goal allowed average of 1.25.

Manchester Falls

Coach Dick Neal's sextet journeyed to Merrimack, N.H. to defeat their Manchester counterparts.

The game started off evenly with both teams getting several excellent scoring chances.

Finally at 9:57 Andover defenseman Paul Derby rattled a 40-foot drive off the goalpost into the net. Derby's second seasonal goal propelled the locals into a 1-0 lead, and Alex M. was credited with the lone assist.

At 8:54 of the second period year-old "rookie" Dave Far flipped in his third goal, combining with linemates Milne and Keith Eosefow to up Andover cushion to 2-0.

With 2:09 remaining in game Manchester spoiled Hubbell's shutout bid, cutting locals' lead to 2-1.

However the Andover defense, backboned by Hubbell who strong throughout the game, stiffened to preserve the triumph.

Cubs Blank Andover

The following afternoon Andover traveled to Brown University's Meehan Auditorium for a showdown with the Providence R.I. Cubs.

The rivals played scoreless hockey through the first two periods, but in the final frame host club found the nets twice for a 2-0 victory.

Ending The Drought

Last Saturday Andover hosted the Wachusett Bantam Merrimack College, and after a scoreless first period it began to look as if the locals might find the range again.

The five-period scoreless drought was finally halted at the middle stanza by captain Bob Daly. He gathered a pass from Kevin Moore and deposited a shot into the corner. Daly's sixth goal campaign made it 1-0.

A little more than two minutes later, 5:40 to be exact, Chuck Redman connected on a powerplay to boost the edge to 2-0.

Capt. Redman took a pass from Daly as he entered the Wachusett zone, cut across to his left and slid a backhand to the corner behind the goalie eighth red-lighter.

Hubbell, April Pace Bantams

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Bantam 'A' traveling hockey team, which has yet to surrender more than three goals to any opponent, received continued goaltending excellence from Jeff Hubbell and Steve April to raise its record to 5-2-1 overall.

In most recent play Andover defeated Manchester, N.H. (2-1), and the Wachusett Bantams of Worcester (3-1), while losing to the Providence Cubs (2-0) and battling Brunswick, Me. to a 0-0 tie.

In its eight games to date Andover has outscored the opposition, 36-10, giving goalies Hubbell and April a combined goals-allowed average of 1.25.

The following afternoon Andover traveled to Brown University's Meehan Auditorium for a showdown with the Providence, R.I. Cubs.

The rivals played scoreless hockey through the first two periods, but in the final frame the host club found the nets twice for a 2-0 victory.

Ending The Drought

Last Saturday Andover hosted the Wachusett Bantams at Merrimack College, and after a scoreless first period it began to look as if the locals might never find the range again.

The five-period scoreless drought was finally halted at 3:32 of the middle stanza by center-ice man Bob Daly. He gathered in a pass from Kevin Moore and deposited a shot into the upper corner. Daly's sixth goal of the campaign made it 1-0.

A little more than two minutes later, 5:40 to be exact, winger Chuck Redman connected on the powerplay to boost the edge to 2-0.

Capt. Redman took a pass from Daly as he entered the Wachusett zone, cut across to his off wing and slid a backhand to the far corner behind the goalie for his eighth red-lighter.

Wachusett countered at 7:27 to cut the deficit to 2-1, but that was the only time it solved the many moves of Jeff Hubbell in net.

Footie's Feat

Lennie Footie, Andover's other 13-year-old rookie, added a bit of insurance at 3:09 of the final period with his third goal.

Winger John Fahey started the play, digging the puck from the right boards and feeding Mike Cullinan on the point.

Cullinan zinged a slapshot at the Wachusett goalie, who made the initial save before Footie fired home the rebound from in front.

Hubbell remained steady in the cage to assure the victory.

40 Shots, No Goals

Last Sunday the Andover crew trekked to Brunswick, Me.

Although the locals fired some 40 shots at the opposing goaltender, he was nothing short of sensational as the foes had to settle for a 0-0 standoff.

Steve April was also sharp in the Andover net, although not tested quite as severely, and he collected his first shutout.

Postponed

Last week's snowstorms forced postponement of home games against the Phillips Academy Juniors and Hampton, N.H. Bantams.

Andover was to have faced Brunswick, Me. in a return match this Saturday night (7 p.m.) at Phillips Academy. Brunswick had to cancel out, but a substitute opponent has been lined up and a game will be played as scheduled.

This Sunday Andover journeys north to face the Concord, N.H. Bantams at 1:15 p.m.

At Homeport

Navy Fireman Charles E. Pfaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfaff of 2 Juniper Road, Andover, returned to his homeport at Newport, R.I., on board the guided missile frigate USS Coontz after a five-month deployment with the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. He participated in various task group operations, including a major NATO amphibious exercise, and 13 visited ports in Spain, Italy, Greece and Turkey.

Five Teams Romance Top

By Rick Harrison

A mere 1½ games separate the top five teams in the Intermediate Division of the Andover Church Basketball League, following this week's full slate of games at the East Junior High gym.

St. Robert's B (4-0), St. Augustine B (3-0), West Parish A (3-1), St. Robert's C (3-1) and West Parish B (2-1) form the early-season logjam at the top of the pack.

Top Clubs Clash

The biggest game of the week matched St. Robert's B against St. Robert's C in a battle of undefeated quintets, and when the final horn sounded the 'B' squad had posted an 18-9 victory to stay perfect.

The winners never trailed, holding 4-2, 8-4 and 12-7 leads at the first three checkpoints.

Rich Marciano paced the scoring charge with 8 points, while Mike Chase and Jeff Nicastro tossed in 4 markers apiece. John Amboian flipped in a single bucket for the victors.

John McNamara and Carmen Frederico pumped through 4 points each for the 'C' team. Ira Gold swished a third quarter free throw, while Tom Daley and Todd Zimmerman contributed fine defensive play.

Walshs Star

Brothers John and Tom Walsh handled the bulk of the scoring to propel St. Augustine B to its third straight win, a 22-12 conquest of Baptist.

John poured through 12 points, Tom added 6 and Charlie Heseltine stuffed 4 points in the final quarter.

Chris Kelley and Bill Hart chipped in fine floor games to help preserve the winners' undefeated record.

Baptist, which trailed only 8-6 at the half before breaking down, received 8 points from Bob Fitzgerald and solo baskets by Bob Dufault and Steve Rathbun.

Pitching in defensively for Baptist were Tim Whitton, Jim Rathbun and Tommy Stedman.

West A Prevails

St. Augustine D threw a mighty scare into three-time defending champ West Parish A, but late buckets by Jeff Rosen and Billy Hall snapped a 20-20 tie and boosted West A to a 24-20 triumph.

The victory was the 27th in the last 28 league starts for West A, and its 120th in 130 games over a six-year span.

The contest was tied no less than eight different times, although at the quarter breaks West A held 8-4, 16-14 and 18-16 leads.

Billy Hall took game-high point honors with 14 for West A, while Jeff Rosen netted 8 points and Pete Newton had 2.

Glen Johnson, Phil Harnden and Paul Newton came up with several key steals and rebounds.

Steve Morin had an exceptional shooting night for St. Augustine D, hooping 10 points before fouling out with less than one minute to play. Steve Moriarty popped in 8 points and John Dwyer had a deuce.

Kane Grecoe and Jim Dwyer pitched in a pair of fine all-around performances for the hard-luck losers.

Bedell, Oelwang

Mark Bedell and Bob Oelwang stuffed 13 points apiece to power St. Augustine C to a hard-fought 28-21 victory over sister-club St. Augustine A.

Jay DiLorio completed the 'C' offense with a solo basket, while Joe Torrisi, Bill Caselden and Ernie Costello extended solid efforts to help square the victors' record at 2-2.

Richard Gusmini shared game-high honors by dumping through 13 points for the 'A' aggregation. Charlie Wiseman parted the strings for 6 markers and Dave Gusmini notched a single bucket.

Other standouts for the losers were Bob Wholley and Bob Bartley.

Well-Balanced

St. Robert's A, using a well-balanced attack that saw six different players find the scoring range, belted Free Church 23-7. Scott Praetz and Ben Bram sparked the victors, who jumped to a fast 10-0 lead and were never threatened, by dunking 6 points each.

Mike Terrion hooked in 4 points, Mike Murray collected 3 and rounding out the charge with two-pointers were Greg Praetz and Paul Weitz.

Free's output was restricted to one player, as Doug Awley archered in all 7 points.

Defensive assistance came from Phil Kirkland, Mike King, Alan Green and Jon VanDerZee.

Intra-Church Battle

The third of three intra-church battles on the night saw South A edge South B by a 13-9 count.

The game was tightly-fought from opening tap to final horn, as the lead changed hands three times and it was tied twice.

Marc Weiner was the big gun for South A with 10 points, the majority of which came on soft 15-foot set shots. Andy Cobin had a key third period bucket, and Jim Gardner opened the scoring with a first quarter charity toss.

Doug Taylor, Dale Lattanzo and Marc Robichaud also helped South A to its first victory.

Big Bob Kilgo scored in every quarter and finished with all 9 South B points. Rich Caughey, Robbie Finlayson and John Sagaser also played well for South B.

The victory was the straight for West, now 7-2 and runner-up to the underdog Bruce School quintet who battles on January 27.

West Parish was forced to the game with the minimum five competitors, and even they hit the scoring column.

Dave Nardone and Bill shared game-high point honors both cracking double figures with 12 points.

Bruce Belbin added 4 and a solid defensive effort while single buckets were in by Jimmy Stamas and McDonald.

The loss dropped the place Hawks' ledger to 3-1.

W. Parish Chalks Up Shutout

West Parish scored eight points in each quarter, and played tough defense while coasting to a 32-0 shutout win over the St. Lawrence Hawks in Lawrence J.C.C. Biddy Basketball League play last weekend.

The victory was the third straight for West, now 7-2 overall and runner-up to the undefeated Bruce School quintet which it battles on January 27.

West Parish was forced to play the game with the minimum of five competitors, and each of them hit the scoring column.

Dave Nardone and Billy Hall shared game-high point honors, both cracking double figures with 12 points.

Bruce Belbin added 4 points and a solid defensive effort, while single buckets were tossed in by Jimmy Stamas and Mike McDonald.

The loss dropped the fourth-place Hawks' ledger to 3-6.

In its nine games to date, West Parish has outscored the opposition by a healthy 187-76 margin with Nardone, Hall and Chris Doherty the top point producers thus far.

W. Parish Seniors Win 11th

The West Parish boys Senior Church Basketball team won the 11th straight game in league competition this week as they topped St. Mary's of Lawrence in the Lawrence J.C.C. League 38-30 to up their record to 7-0 and they did it against a tough tall team who have two 6 footers and another boy who goes 5'10.

Coach Frank Monette added it was the finest game our boys have played this year considering our two starting guards were home sick with the flu and the rest of the boys had to give a little something extra in stamina. The boys played almost errorless with very few turnovers and were full-court pressed by the other team most of the game but the superb rebounding of Eric Sullivan, Bob Zwicker and Dave Heidt against the much taller team was the big difference. The excellent work done by the two guards Eddy Goodman and Tim Sweeney, who have not started in a game this year played as good as the regulars and controlled the game very well. Mark Paro was also a very big factor in the victory.

West Parish shot 50 per cent from the floor with 14 field goals out of 28 attempts and hit on 10 foul shots out of 17 attempts for a 59 per cent accuracy. Bob Zwicker led the scoring department with 16 points hitting on 7 out of 10 field goal tries and 2-4 at the foul line besides putting in a 30 foot jumper at the buzzer to end the game. Eric Sullivan collected 10 points while going 4-4 at the foul line, and also putting in a driving layup going under one of the 6 footers in a real pretty play at the buzzer in the first half. Dave Heidt besides getting fine position under the boards through the game tossed in 5 points.

Tim Sweeney tossed in 5 points 3-4 at the foul line at his guard position and showed some fancy ball dribbling tactics in the last minutes of the game and at one point actually controlled the ball for 30 seconds. Eddy Goodman scored 2 points in a clutch play in the final quarter when St. Mary's had the momentum. West Parish is also 4-0 in the Andover Church League.

Pickups, Embassy Triumph

Despite bad weather hoop action continued in the Andover Men's Basketball League Thursday evening. In the contests, Embassy and the Ons engaged in a tight ballgame. At the final buzzer Embassy 72-69. Leading the Embassy tack was Don Strong with 19 points and Morris with 19. Gardner tossed in 10. Ray Brown of the Put Ons was a man show scoring a record 20 points for the losers.

In the other Under 33 Division contest the Hornets easily defeated the Drivers 69-39. Lew Johnson led the Hornets with 22 points followed by Dick Corry with 13. John Jungck with 13 and Earley with 12. The Drivers scored 20 point effort from Warren Arsenault and a 10 point effort from Randy Glover.

The Over 33 Division saw upset victory as the Pickups defeated Dana's 45-44. Pickups posted their first victory over previously undefeated Dana's when Gary Nevers went through the hoop as the buzzer sounded.

High scorer for the Pickups was Dave Moorhead with 19 points followed by Elliott Brown with 9, Vic Conforti with 8, Allan Maxwell with 7. Dana's scoring was paced by Les Gilman with 12 points and Dennis Hu with 10.

The game scheduled between the Strobes and the Sweethearts was not played since the weather prevented some of the players from getting to the gym. The game will be rescheduled for a later date.

We abuse land because we regard it as a commodity belonging to us. When we see land as a community to which we belong, this land ethic changes the role of man from conqueror of the land-community to being a member of it, the Massachusetts Audubon Society points out.

Electric Co. To Issue Refunds

Massachusetts Electric Company will begin refunding about $5.5 million to customers over the next ten months. The refund will appear as a credit on 1974 bills. It represents the difference between what was collected by the company subject to refund and the final settlement, approved by the Federal Power Commission, on the rate for wholesale electricity sold by New England Power Company to Massachusetts Electric.

The refund will amount to about six-tenths of a mill per kilowatt-hour and will appear as a credit on customers' bills beginning January 7.

Also, as of January 1, Massachusetts Electric began billing a new purchased power cost adjustment to offset higher wholesale electric rates requested by New England Power. This adjustment, which adds about nine-tenths of a mill per kilowatt-hour to customers' bills, is also subject to refund pending final settlement by the FPC.

Program On Diet Given Diabetics

Over 80 people filled Western Electric's Auditorium recently to hear Mrs. Ann Bradley, R.D., and Mrs. Mary Enos, R.D., both therapeutic dietitians of the Lawrence General Hospital, speak on diet before the Merrimack Valley Diabetes Education group.

Mrs. Bradley opened the discussion by explaining the reasons for, and the facts which determine the diet that the doctor prescribes.

Mrs. Enos then went on to break the diets down and discussed these breakdowns in detail. As is the custom of the Programs, a lively question and answer period followed the formal program.

Mrs. Robert Pelrine, president, announced that beginning in February, the Merrimack Valley Diabetes Education Program will hold their last four meetings in the auditorium downstairs in the Chapel at Merrimack College.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 13.

The original schedule called for the February meeting to be held on Monday, Feb. 11. It has been changed to Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium downstairs in the chapel at Merrimack College.

Staff Report

A "blueprint" of programs, personnel and facilities that could someday lead to a "maximizing of learning at all levels," was presented to the Andover School Committee in a public session Tuesday night.

In presenting the voluminous program assessment - which evaluated every student in every program in Andover schools -

Assistant Superintendent Regan said that as an educator he was "specifically pleased to be a part of it." He added that he had never seen a better articulation of a system's needs on the first go-around.

As "immediate needs," the study lists the following:

- Program budgets to provide replacement and maintenance, and alternative materials for low and high achievers. This, Regan said, would insure that everyone gets the basic skills.

- Adapt a spelling program consistent with the individualized character of our reading program.

- Fund programs for career education and the world-of-work.

- Provide an automated method of accounting student progress in the development of basic skills. This, Regan said, is so "we don't lose the students." One alternative to the computer, he said, would be more teacher aides.

- Converting Jackson School into instructional space. Regan said that in spite of the fact that the School Committee knocked out of the budget money for portable classrooms, "we do have space needs," particularly on the secondary level, "and we have to get the space somewhere."

- Fund in-service program to provide training for professional staff in management, development of instructional systems in behavioral terms, research and evaluation techniques, observational skills in evaluating child growth, orientation for new teachers, interviewing techniques and personnel evaluation.

- Assign additional personnel for students who need a low ratio of pupils to teacher. Regan said a "trade-off" would be involved here, by making the best use of existing people before bringing new ones into the system. For example, he said, some highly motivated students work better with less supervision, and the teachers now assigned to them could be reassigned.

- Fund learning centers and learning labs for independent use and skills development.

- Personnel at South and Sanborn schools should develop an educational plan for their buildings which compares identified space needs with what is presently available.

In arriving at these needs, Regan said, the entire system assessed itself, and all students in all programs, via teacher judgments, course evaluation, achievement tests, comparison with national norms, and the like.

Regan added that he could come back to the School Committee at another time with more specifics - such as the standing of all social studies students at all levels, what was necessary to maximize learning in that subject, and how much it would cost.

In fact, he said, a parent who wanted to know how his child fared in a certain subject could ask the principal and see the evaluation of that class for himself.

Regan went on to say that the assessment shows that most students are performing at an average level, with considerably smaller groups at lower and higher levels, also need appropriate materials, etc. The low achievers in particular, he said, need considerable structure, while a "significant number" of students at all levels need more independent study.

One of the unfortunate causes of low achievement, he went on, is the misplacing of students in college-oriented classes. The orientation in Andover is that the route to success is through college, he said. "But we have very limited programs for those who aren't going to go on to college."

While the individualized programs are working well for the majority of students, the report goes on, they are generally inadequate for low and high achievers, unless they are modified to fit various learning styles. There needs to be more emphasis on basic skill development in some programs, and greater exposure to the world-of-work and "survival skills," it adds, plus alternative programs for "psychological dropouts."

The assessment also shows, Regan says, a "justifiable demand" for more time for teacher planning, and a need for continued in-service training.

There is considerable evidence, the report says, "that each school needs flexible spaces with a variety of room sizes." The lack of such flexibility, it says, is particularly being felt in the junior highs, high school, and Sanborn School and since there is no immediate prospect for additional space, there must be better use of existing "with what we have."

The long-term needs listed by the study are as follows:

- Establish a model for differentiated staffing with alternative variations.

- Provide equality of space in all schools which will allow for maximum flexibility.

- Introduce a greater variety of options for junior high school students.

- Structure an alternative school for secondary students who are now achieving and/or poorly motivated. (Regan said this program was already "pretty well set up," but that it needed funding.)

- Plan a local vocational school for Andover, which may or may not be an extension of Vo-Tech.

- Continued redirection of resources to lower levels.

- Set up pilot programs and organizations under controlled conditions.

Regan, said the whole assessment was made on certain "educational assumptions," which were:

- Education is based on child growth and development.

- Every student has a right to appropriate instruction (This assumption, according to Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, was insured by federal law in 1969).

- The school system will continue its policy of continuous progress education.

- Learning styles of children should influence the teaching styles of teachers.

- There is a number of students in each program who need a highly structured skills program.

- There is a number of students in each program who are motivated, self-directing, and learn best with greater amounts of independent study.

- Open space or closed classrooms are not appropriate for all students.

- Alternative programs are needed to provide for differing learning styles.

NEW METERS were installed at the municipal parking lot last week. The new vandal-proof meters, approved by town meeting in the fall, were purchased through funds from the meter account. They are uniform, in that they will accept nickels only for hour parking. Here, Brian Poane and Ron Pughe, complete the installation of one of the meter heads.

Medetation Demonstration Scheduled

If you are one of the many people seeking a quiet corner in today's world of confusion, crises, and scandal, your answer, whether you be housewife, business executive, merchant, or student, may well be TM.

Known more formally as Transcendental Meditation, TM is a simple, natural mental technique which, when practiced for a few minutes in the morning and evening, provides a very deep rest, allowing an individual to eliminate stress and strain. Thus, its practitioners experience greater energy, clarity of mind, and more creativity in their daily living.

These findings are not merely wishful thinking, they are facts backed up by scientific experiments, studies and tests conducted by leaders in the medical and psychological communities. Investigations by doctors and researchers at some of the nation's outstanding hospitals and universities reveal that Transcendental Meditation holds promise as a weapon against certain diseases, and as a means of therapy for drug addicts, mental patients, and prisoners.

In the Greater Lawrence area today, there are some five hundred TM practitioners, two hundred of whom are students in area colleges, prep schools, and high schools. They range in ages from four to eighty. Their ranks are increasing weekly as more and more people, desirous of contentment and relief from the tensions of daily living, are attending introductory lectures to learn what Transcendental Meditation is all about. Those who find through these lectures that they want to join the movement then go on through a brief course of instruction in the simple, beneficial technique.

As Kate Isen, 4 Lovejoy Road, Andover, a local initiator, or teacher, of Transcendental Meditation, who studied personally with Maharishi in Majorca and Italy, relates: Learning meditation is really very simple. After two free introductory lectures and four personal sessions, a person can know all he or she needs to know about meditation for the rest of a lifetime."

She continues, "TM makes a person more confident and content. It makes them bloom. And it is perfectly natural, unlike many faddy spiritual experiences cropping up in these hectic times."

There will be an introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Andover Memorial Hall Library. The general public is invited to attend.

The first beaver hat to appear in London caused such a disturbance the wearer was arrested.

This Island Unto Ourselves

The Andover Industrial Development Commission has followed a theory peculiar to some Andover boards and committees in a recent action which removes the town from participating in a Chamber of Commerce sponsored Industrial Commission.

Last week by a five to three vote the local commission decided it would not recommend the expenditure of funds to join in the proposed Greater Lawrence industrial effort.

Members of the Andover Industrial Commission include Anthony DiDio, chairman; Wolf Berthold, secretary; S. Joseph Hoffman, Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, Douglas Anderson, Thomas J. Swift, Mrs. Dorothy Sherrerd, Atty. Thomas Tavenner and Horace M. Poynter.

Just who voted for and against the matter, "is not important," according to the chairman and secretary of the commission. They consider it unfair to publicly record the vote, since the Chamber has been given an opportunity to come before them again prior to town meeting to attempt to convince the board of the need.

We are impressed by the short memories of some members of the local commission who were given substantial assistance in their efforts about a year ago this time in obtaining for the town a prominent industrial client by the name of Hewlett-Packard.

At the time Chamber officials spoke in favor of the needed utilities for the West Andover Industrial park and mustered voting assistance through area business and industrial leaders who were residents of Andover.

There is concern that the Greater Lawrence commission directed through the Chamber office would concentrate on filling vacant mill space in Lawrence.

Andover, the commission feels, has virgin industrial land which it can better administer on its own.

Filling mill space in Lawrence, North Andover or Methuen, we feel, is important enough to the overall economy of Greater Lawrence as the placing of a new plant on Andover territory.

The Chamber effort lends itself quite well to removing political overtones to industrial development efforts. It gives the participating communities an equal say in activities.

Andover's assessment for participation in the program is set at $2,550, a small fee compared to some of the other costs in the community.

For this token cost, Andover could well be a part of a project which will be dedicated to improvement of the Greater Lawrence business and economic climate.

It could also go a long way toward proving that we are no longer an island unto ourselves.

Of Importance

Communities such as Andover which face a steady, continued growth, are in need of a constant "policing" action to insure protection for not only the community as a whole but for individuals coming into the town.

That Andover has such protection is evidenced by a quite competent building inspection department, which has, in its annual report, indicated that the year just ended was a record one for new construction.

Under the direction of Building Inspector Arthur Peatman and his assistants, over $12,800,000 in construction of all types was authorized during the year.

For the most part, all of this will appear at some time on the town's tax rolls. There were but few permits, the public school renovation project being the major one, which will result in tax exempt construction.

The important thing in viewing these figures, is that issuance of a permit does not represent the total activity of the building inspection department.

Following review of plans and issuance of the permit, there is steady inspection by the various building trades involved, such as plumbing, electrical and health inspections. Before a certificate of occupancy is issued, there is a final examination to insure that both the prospective occupant and the town are protected.

Recent actions by the combined efforts of the health department and the building inspector has resulted in correction of septic systems which did not conform to town regulations.

While the competence of the department is quite evident, there is another factor worthy of consideration.

The department is one of the few in the community which is self-sustaining. Last year, the fees collected for permits issued totalled over $37,000, more than sufficient to meet the salaries and expenses of the office.

When competence and protection offered by a municipal department results in no added cost to the taxpayer, we feel such activity should not go unnoticed.

Candidates

With a little over a week still remaining to obtain and file nomination papers, Andover's election campaign 1974 shapes up as a sort of quiet affair.

It seems surprising in view of the annual flurry of election activity in recent years.

Particularly interesting is the lack of candidates in view of existing vacancies.

With spots open on both the school committee and the board of selectmen, where incumbents will not be seeking re-election, the candidate turnout as of early this week, has been sparse.

We trust that up until now there has been a wait and see attitude on the part of potential office seekers.

Hopefully in the days remaining, there will be a representation of concerned interest by members of the community in the municipal life of Andover.

Continued operation of good government in Andover can only be attained by offering the electorate a choice of leaders and an active campaign for which Andover has been known in the past.

Off The Top Of The Desk

The long drought between substantial snowfall did not seem to hamper those in charge of snow cleanup operations.

For the first time in over a year the snow was of sufficient quantity last week to require the plows to go into operation.

The crews were at their efficient best in combatting the storm conditions.

Starting with the usual sanding and salting, then switching to all-out plowing operations, the towns were kept clear and traffic passable throughout the storm periods.

Andover young people are getting some pretty good attention this week.

Boston newspapers and television stations have been in town to view the youthful efforts toward halting cigarette smoking.

Monday night Tim Driscoll was among the young people interviewed on one Boston station along with Ginger Eaton.

Sunday's Super Bowl VIII extravaganza, should establish a record for the shortest game on record.

We realize the total playing time was a full 60 minutes, but it seems that the game was over in about the first five minutes, which for the sports statisticians should establish a new SB record.

By the way, football may have taken hold of the attention of the general sports fan and commanded Saturday and Sunday afternoons from early fall to mid-winter, but we don't subscribe to their apparent desire to change the National Anthem.

Seems singing or playing of "America The Beautiful," is becoming more and more a part of pre-game or half-time activity.

The Star Spangled Banner still is the immediate predecessor of the game itself, but there would appear to be an effort to put either "America The Beautiful," or "God Bless America," in a certain prominence.

Before the change in time schedules in the North Andover school day, High School Principal Daniel Desmond had something unique for modern education.

Assemblies by a Harvest Moon.

One day during the early morning darkness, the school was illuminated by the moon, a feature no longer possible since a half-hour change in school time has resulted in youngsters going in daylight.

A bit unusual, or maybe it isn't, is the misspelling of the listing of the various refuse contractors in Andover.

The first man on the list is the GARBARGE collector.

Well that's what Jonathan Winters calls it in his white uniform.

Massachusetts Turnpike Weather and Road Conditions Advisory Service is available by telephone 24 hours a day, it was announced by Chairman John T. Driscoll of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority.

For the safety and convenience of motorists planning winter travel on the Massachusetts Turnpike, Chairman Driscoll suggests that the motorists place a phone call to the following number, for weather and road conditions for the entire 135 mile length of the Massachusetts Turnpike: Boston, 237-5210.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - January, 1899

The selectmen and local representatives appeared before the state highway commission asking consideration of construction of another mile of state highway through the $100,000 available this year. Among reasons given was the stone crusher is already in place.

Repairs on the dancing surface of the town hall are underway in anticipation of the Pilgrim's annual ball.

The agitation for better service on the electric lines between Lawrence and Andover has resulted in action. The trolleys will now make the run to and from the city every 20 minutes, according to officials of the Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill railway.

A petition is being circulated in town and will be aired at the state house expressing the desire for legislation which would make the real and personal property of educational institutions subject to taxation.

Henry A. Beeley of Ballardvale, well-known local pigeon trainer, has entered an exhibit in the annual poultry show at Mechanics Hall, Boston.

50 Years Ago - January, 1924

The executive board of the Ballardvale Improvement Association, at a meeting held this week, voted to change the fees for use of the community rooms to $3 in winter months and $1.50 in the summer.

Frederick E. Cheever, one of the town's best known young men and a member of the school committee, has left the employ of the Converse Rubber Co. in Malden to join the American Woolen Company, heading the bookkeeping department in the Shawshen Warehouse.

Through the fast efforts of William Sellars, James Cole and Charles Dalton, a young lady from Abbot Academy was saved from Pomp's pond Sunday afternoon after she fell through the soft ice.

The new uniforms for the fire department have arrived and all members have been issued the new equipment. All officers will wear white with red letters and the men will wear black with white lettering.

25 Years Ago - January, 1949

Rev. John S. Moses and Malcolm McTernan of the school committee announce they will not seek re-election. William A. Doherty will be a candidate. The committee will be reduced by two members this year as it drops to five members.

C. Carleton Kimball was elected senior warden, Ernest S. Young, junior warden and Franklin T. Bigelow, treasurer at the annual meeting of Christ Church.

A snowless winter has caused a layoff of some 135 employees at Tyer Rubber Co. The sale of rubber goods has dropped sharply due to lack of need for rubbers and boots.

A course in instructing driver education teachers will be conducted at Punchard High School by the Division of Continuing Education and the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

10 Years Ago - January, 1964

Msgr. Francis J. Lally, editor of the Pilot, comments on efforts toward christian unity at Vesper Service at Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy.

The Board of Appeals has heard a petition to erect six additional apartment buildings of 12 units each at the corner of Haverhill and High streets.

Home mail delivery is to begin next week in Ballardvale. All residents should have the house numbers assigned by the assessors clearly visible.

Church League

St. Robert's Blasts South

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's B blasted South, 62-12, and West Parish A remained undefeated with 65-16 romp over West Parish B in a pair of Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division mismatches.

These were the only two games played within the past week, as a full slate of scheduled contests were postponed because of last week's snowstorms.

The Senior Division did resume play last night, however, with three games after TOWNSMAN presstime.

Terrion Too Much

Joe Terrion proved to be too much all by himself, as he laid in 20 points for St. Robert's to outscore the entire South quintet all by himself.

Other double figure performers for the winners, now 2-1 overall, were Bob Moynihan with 16 points and Rick Collins with 10.

Kevin Fogarty pumped through 8 points, Dave LaFleur 4 markers and Frank Griggs scooped in 4 points to complete the romp.

Barry Pulsford and Scott Hughes flipped in 4 points apiece for winless South. Russ and Randy Glines had first quarter buckets.

St. Robert's B had trouble getting untracked and led just 10-8 after one period. A 15-0 second quarter spurt opened it up to 25-8 at the half, and it was 43-10 after three sessions.

Three Hit Doubles

West A (4-0) had no problem subduing intra-church rival West B (0-3), getting three players in twin digits and putting the game out of sight early with an 18-4 opening quarter lead.

Center Mark deConstant matched the entire West B production with 16 points. Eric Sullivan wasn't far behind with 15 and Steve Serley canned 13 points for West A.

Paul McGowan and Chris Elliott registered 8 points each, and Bob Zwicker chipped in 5 markers to put the lid on the lop-sided tilt.

Jeff Smith again guided the West B attack with 77 points. Andy Campbell managed 6, Ed Goodman swished a brace of free throws and Tim Sweeney banged in a charity toss for the losers, who had just four field goals and eight foul shots.

After racing to the 18-4 first period advantage, West A made it 28-9 at the half and 46-11 after three stanzas.

Globetrotters Pace Juniors

The first-place Globetrotters continued undefeated and the Knickerbockers took over second place following action last week in the Junior Division of the Andover Church Basketball League.

The 'Trotters boosted their record to 4-0 with a 14-4 victory over the Bucks. Divisional scoring leader Ted Kelley again led the way for the winners with 12 points, while Mark Paradis tossed in 2 points.

Mike White was the entire offensive show for the Bucks, as he fired through 4 points.

The Knickerbockers lifted their record to 3-1, moving one-half game ahead of idle West Parish with a 6-4 overtime victory at the Lakers' expense.

Marc Bolton paced the Knicks' attack with 3 points, while Craig Lebowitz canned 2 points and Bob French netted an all-important free throw.

Brian Moriarty and John Kramer dumped in 2 points apiece for the hard-luck Lakers.

The Celtics broke into the win column, romping to a 22-8 triumph over the Raiders.

Ed L'Italien guided five Celts' players into the point parade with 8 markers. John Atanasoff poured in 6 points, Chris O'Reilly 4 points and solo buckets were delivered by Joe Zemis and Chris Reichert.

Tony Romano, son of the Tewksbury High varsity basketball coach, gunned in 4 points for the Raiders. Contributing a deuce apiece were Mike Damphousse and Tom O'Brien.

The Celtics' victory came after tough 8-6 and 9-6 losses in their first two outings.

The Junior Division resumed play last Tuesday night, after TOWNSMAN presstime, at the East Junior High gym.

Down at West Newbury on Tuesday afternoon the Scarlet Knights defeated the Pentucket Sachems 86-49 for their 40th consecutive Cape Ann victory and coach Bob Licare's 230th win in 14 years at the helm of No. Andover, the successful coach has only 51 defeats.

The local red and black just out-classed the Sachems from the three-minute mark of the first quarter when Jerome Gordon put in a basket to make it 9-8, the Knights lead. The running attack just zoomed off 12 straight points to make it 19-8 and they held a 19-10 first quarter lead. The second quarter on, just saw the Knights balanced attack at work running, busting the offensive defenses, and running through the Sachems defense. The red breakers poured in during the latter part of the second quarter and kept up the running style of the team by back-up playmakers Kevin Smith and Ron Rudis. The second half saw more of the same with Jerome Gordon, Dick Licare and Andy Breen leading the attack to a convincing 64-36 victory. In the fourth quarter play to the large victory. Andy Breen led the Knights once again with 15 points, 14 rebounds. Jerome Gordon poured in 15 to tie Breen for scoring honors. Dick Licare came up with 11 points, 9 assists and 4 steals. George Lay and Dave Shorey with 10 each led the Sachems attack.

The Scarlet red and black won their tenth this season with no defeats. These hoopsters are 9-0 in league play.

Knights vs Triton Regional: The Scarlet Knights defeated the Triton Blue-White 66-33 on Friday night at the N.A. Field House for the final night game at that court for the regular season. The Vikings from Byfield played deliberate basketball from the start and came up with a 6-6 stand-off at the end of the initial quarter, leading 6-2 at around mid-quarter. The second period was a different story though, as the host Knights were perturbed at the slow-down ball of Triton and started to run and press and came up with the ball several times for a 14-6 advantage and 20-12 halftime lead for the Knights.

The second half saw Triton play more openly and the host team ran and just tired the surprising Vikings for a large-cut lead and then sailed on to the win. Andy Breen and Dick Licare led the much-so devastating balanced attack with 10 points a piece. Breen had 16 rebounds to match Licare's 12 assists and 6 steals. All twelve players were in the scoring attack for the Knights. On Triton's side it was John Shart with 16 points, all from the inside and Scott Willard with 10. It was the host teams 39th straight triumph in the league over a two year span.

Hoop Notes: Frank Cunningham is back in action as he saw play in the Pentucket game during the latter stages. He will see some considerable action during the season and should be a big help to the bench strength. . . The Knights travel to Amesbury Friday night to face the Fighting Indians. Amesbury this season has a fairly good club led by first year coach Les Childs. Charley Cashman, the 6'4 talented center and all-around guard Peter Banks, the C.A.L. leading scorer a year ago blend into a fine attack. . . The Knights then will face their biggest test of the season at Hamilton-Wenham Tuesday afternoon when they meet the East division leading Generals. This fire unit is led by all-around center Larry Hudson at 6'4, a leaper averaging 16 points per game. The General's run on their power up front against the Knights speed and passing. Game time will be at 5 p.m. following the J.V. tilt at 3:30. This J.V. affair should also be interesting with each team the leader in it's division. . . By the way the J.V.'s led by highly successful coach Jack Fichera are presently undefeated also this season at 8-0. They are 38-1 since they entered the Cape Ann League and are going for their second Cape Ann Junior title.

This years quintet is led by 6'5 center Mike Heafey averaging 17 points per game. Bob Redman and Bob Quintal lead the team also with their very fine back-court play and Rich Connors is the fine shooter averaging 13 points per outing. This proves the basketball program at N.A.H.S. will not be through for a couple of years at least. . . Scoring wise, the Varsity Knights are well balanced led by their devastating center Andy Breen with 143 points on 62 from the floor and 19 charity tosses. Following Breen is Sidney Peterson with 104, Billy St. Cyr - 91, Dick Licare - 87, Brian Smith - 64 and Jerome Gordon with 58. Rebounding, Breen leads averaging 16 per contest while Dick Licare is averaging 12 assists and 8 steals per game while contributing 12 points per outing. . . The Scarlet Knights are rated tops in Division II and will next be home against league power Lynnfield on Tuesday January 29th at 5. That game follows a Friday night encounter at Gerogetown to conclude a four game road-stand. . . See you next week.

Most of us are not directly responsible for environmental abuses, but we connive in them by our ignorance; we are ignorantly dependent upon them. Every time we indulge in or depend on the wastefulness of our economy, we are promoting the environmental crisis, the Massachusetts Audubon Society points out.

Employment Increases Slightly

Employment in Massachusetts increased slightly in November reaching a new high of 2,570,000, according to Richard C. Gilliland, Director of the Division of Employment Security. This employment increase was sufficient to absorb the continuing growth in the state's workforce. As a result, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate remained at 6.9 percent, unchanged from September and October levels.

Energy distribution problems had not noticeably affected unemployment in mid-November when the estimates were made, although some shortages of materials were reported. The stable rate experienced in Massachusetts for the September to November period was consistent with the national unemployment picture which leveled off around the 4.7 percent level during that time.

Torres Exhibition At Museum

The first major exhibition of the works of contemporary figurative painter Horacio Torres opened at the Museum of Fine Arts, Jan. 9. Twenty-five oil paintings of nude figures painted in both a traditional and an abstract way introduce the important work of this still unknown artist.

On view in the Contemporary Gallery through March 3, this exhibition represents the first showing ever of the artist's work outside New York City. Horacio Torres was born in 1924 in Italy of a Spanish mother and a Uruguayan father and was raised in Paris in an active artistic environment.

Torres' father is Joaquin Torres-Garcia, a prominent Cubist painter whose work has been exhibited in numerous shows including a 1970 retrospective at the Guggenheim Museum in New York. From his father, Torres learned to work in both figurative and abstract modes.

A catalogue with color illustrations and an extensive essay by Kenworth Moffett, Curator of the Museum's Department of Contemporary Art, will be published in conjunction with the exhibition.

It was only at the end of 1971 after settling in New York that Torres began to paint original works of high quality, Moffett points out in the catalogue. At this time the artist recognized the deep conflict between his veneration for tradition and his interest in modernism. Torres' conviction that modernism must be won and representation justified poses a constant challenge for him and fuses his work with a unique tension.

A typical painting by Torres shows a female nude reclining on a draped support posed against a colored background. The monumental pose is clearly conventional and the head is usually cropped off or hidden. The design is carried largely by the broad, fluent rhythm of the figure positioned to form a simple dramatic composition.

Durable goods manufacturing continued to show substantial strength, with employment in November 21,500 above November 1972 and 32,000 (nearly 10 percent) above the longterm low reached early in 1972. The dominant machinery industries, electrical and nonelectrical, which account for half of the durable goods employment in the Commonwealth, added 11,800 workers in the year ending November. Every major industry in the durable goods sector of manufacturing expanded over the past 12 months except for transportation equipment.

Employment in nondurable goods manufacturing has remained nearly unchanged over the past year due to declines in footwear and leather products, wearing apparel, food processing, printing and publishing which offset significant gains in rubber and plastics products, silverware, toys and games, sporting goods etc. Some 3200 jobs were lost in footwear and leather products in the year.

The nonmanufacturing sector continued to post employment gains in spite of sharply reduced federal employment. The 41,500 jobs added in the last 12 months were spread across all other areas with principal increases in local government, educational and health services, wholesale and retail trade, finance and insurance, hotels and motels, and outdoor construction.

Each of the eight major metropolitan areas in Massachusetts showed a higher unemployment rate in November than in October. In some, notably the large trading centers of Boston and Worcester, and to a lesser extent Brockton, employment also increased and the rise in unemployment was due to unsuccessful job seekers. Other area unemployment rates rose because of a combination of small declines in employment and an increase in the number of job hunters. The Worcester area continued to have the lowest rate (5.4 percent) and the Lowell area the highest (10.2).

To Offer Wheaton Program

Wheaton College, one of the oldest liberal arts institutions in the United States, will sponsor an informal meeting for high school students and parents from the Merrimack Valley area on Jan. 19.

The special discussion program, designed to acquaint students with the academic, cultural and social life at Wheaton's New England campus, will be at the Peabody House home of Mrs. David Costello, Brooks School, North Andover from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Joining Mrs. Costello, a Wheaton graduate and member of the Executive Committee of the Merrimack Valley Wheaton Club will be Mr. Harold Worthley, Assoc. Prof. of Religion and College Chaplain, who will discuss why Wheaton remains an all women's institution and the innovative expansion of the College's 139 year old liberal arts tradition toward pre-career programs and professional orientation for its students.

Located 35 miles south of Boston, Wheaton offers the advantages of a rural campus easily accessible to major New England cities.

Among its pre-career student programs are a dual-degree engineering program with Georgia Tech whereby Wheaton students will receive a Bachelor degree both in liberal arts and engineering and an association with Northeastern University which will permit Wheaton students to enter cooperative programs of alternating work and on-campus study.

Other members of the Executive Committee planning to attend are Mrs. Jean Miniechello of Haverhill, Mrs. Ethel C. Smith of Andover, and Mrs. Arthur Howes of North Andover.

'The Family Album' At Gallery

Photographs from The Family Album, compiled by Mark Silber, and photographs by Amelia Burnett are on display at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, Andover, through Jan. 27.

Mark Silber's photographic work is concerned primarily with social documentary and has been exhibited both in the United States and abroad. This exhibit is the result of his discovery and compilation of photographs taken in Buckfield, Maine, by Gilbert Tilton and Fred Record. The photographs were taken at the turn of the century; the two photographers were friends and business partners. They were not artists or photographers, but, rather, were representative of the many amateurs of that period who were delving for the first time into the brand-new hobby of photography.

Amelia Burnett's photographs were taken in the course of travels to Yellowstone and Alaska, 1908; Florida, 1910; and around the world, 1911-12. The exhibit was prepared by her granddaughter, Linda Burnett, and has been made available as a traveling exhibition by Imageworks in Cambridge, Mass.

The Addison Gallery of American Art is open free to the public Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Sundays from 2:30 - 5 p.m.

A major energy decision on refineries will be made today, Jan. 18. Awards Dinner England Press Annual Winter Conference.

John A.S. McGovern, administrator of environmental protection, will discuss the economic impact of the Sheraton-Boston dinner honoring achievement in newspapers.

Mr. McGovern will address an audience of 500 publishers and advertisers at the New England Association of Newspapers, which will discuss environmental guidelines in growing newspaper proposals in the field.

"We want ground floor proposal," said McGovern. "We want them ahead of time."

Asks Service Council

County Commissioner H. Cahill (D) announced that he endorses the mission of the Commission on Donovan, a place all counties should have in the seventh time years that the Essex County Legislature, but is not a part of the Legislature.

"Our critical counties are patronage," said Cahill. "The time for appeal to the Legislature is for all time that we exist."

"Civil service protect the people the same way municipal protected," said Cahill. "We would also qualified can we and other could select the county."

"The ball is in court. I hope particularly fit to criticize patronage, proposal and defeated for."

Energy, Economy To Be Subjects For Newsmen

A major environmental policy decision on New England oil refineries will be announced Friday, Jan. 18, at the Annual Awards Dinner of the New England Press Association's annual Winter Convention.

John A.S. McGlennon, regional administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, will discuss the energy crisis and its economic impact at the Sheraton-Boston Hotel awards dinner honoring outstanding achievement by New England newspapers.

Mr. McGlennon, whose audience will include more than 500 publishers, editors, reporters and advertising people from the New England Press Association's 250 member papers, will announce Environmental Protection Agency guidelines in dealing with the growing number of refinery proposals in the six-state region.

"We want to be in on the ground floor of any refinery proposal," says Mr. McGlennon. "We want the developers to know ahead of time what to expect from our agency. We are not against refineries, but we are for protecting the environment. We want to insure that Federal water and air standards are protected."

The New England Press Association's four-day convention, Jan. 17-20, will feature more than 50 speakers from coast to coast in 15 panels, dinners, luncheons and roundtable discussions.

At Saturday's luncheon, the First National Bank of Boston's chief economist, James M. Howell, will survey "The New England economy: this winter and beyond."

Dr. Howell joined the bank in 1970 after holding a wide range of teaching and governmental positions. He is editor of the bank's quarterly New England Report and a director of the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Foundation.

Legislators from throughout New England will give their views of the press in a Friday afternoon panel, while California newspaper consultant Herman Silverman will outline "management and editorial leadership necessities for a successful newspaper" Saturday afternoon.

Publishers will get colleagues' advice on "how to live with a recession" while outstanding practitioners will discuss photography and reporting techniques, and a paper's responsibility to its community.

Talks on advertising, production and circulation problems will also be included in the New England Press Association program.

Asks Civil Service For County Help

County Commissioner Edward H. Cahill (D-Lynn) today announced that he has filed, with the endorsement of Commissioner Daniel J. Burke and Commissioner William J. Donovan, a bill which would place all county employees under civil service. This marks the seventh time in the last eight years that the Commissioners of Essex County have filed such legislation, but it has been consistently defeated in the State Legislature.

"Our critics insist that the counties are interested solely in patronage," said Cahill. "This is the time for them and others to appeal to their State Legislators to support this bill and thus end for all time the unfair charge that we exist to find jobs for our friends."

"Civil service status would protect the present employees in the same way that most state and municipal employees are protected," Cahill continued. "It would also provide a pool of qualified candidates from which we and other county officials could select future employees of the county."

"The ball is again in the other court. I hope that the legislators, particularly those who have seen fit to criticize alleged county patronage, will get behind this proposal and see that it is not defeated for the seventh time."

Faster Refund Promised

Want a faster refund this year? The Internal Revenue Service said today that all taxpayers who file their tax returns in January should get their refunds in four to five weeks. After January it may take six to eight weeks.

William E. Williams, IRS District Director for Massachusetts, said that January filers gain about a two-week advantage over those who file later because the 10 IRS service centers can process returns and approve refunds much faster early in the filing season when workloads are not heavy.

"Taxpayers who file early avoid making the thoughtless errors that often occur in their rush to meet the April 15 deadline," said Williams. "Those who wait until the last few weeks to file often fail to read the instructions carefully, neglect to sign the return, or forget to attach all schedules and W-2 forms. These mistakes can delay a refund for as long as four additional weeks."

To avoid the rush and beat the January filing deadline for an early refund of the money due, Williams urged taxpayers to start getting their tax records together now.

Christian Beginnings To Be Discussed

"Christian Beginnings" will be the subject of Rev. Brian S. Lowery, O.S.A. when he appears as guest speaker at South Church, Monday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlor.

Father Brian holds a Doctorate in Sacred Theology from Gregorian U. in Rome and will illustrate his topic with slides of the catacombs. A member of the faculty at Merrimack College, he teaches the "Phenomenon of Religion" to all freshmen.

Sponsored by The Now Church, an interest group of South Church led by Mrs. Richard Morse, members and friends of the parish are welcome.

Two Week "African Carnival" Featured By Sutton Travel

Here's your chance to get away from it all - away from freezing winter weather and the energy crisis! Join the African Safari now being arranged by Sutton Travel, Merrimack Valley's most experienced travel agency. It's their two-week "African Carnival", incredibly priced at just $999, literally hundreds of dollars less than other Africa trips.

To travellers who yearn for the adventure of someplace new (Who's been to Africa?) it's exciting, unusual and definitely un-touristy. To those who think the price of an African vacation is too prohibitive, Sutton Travel $999 price places an African Safari within budgets of a much larger segment of the travelling public.

To people who think an African vacation is a cot in a tent and campfire coffee, Sutton Travel offers comfortable lodgings, deliciously prepared meals, and transfers in air conditioned mini buses with guide (a maximum of 6 passengers per Land Rover) as just a sampling of all the comforts you can count on.

Visit Sutton Travel at either of their convenient locations: 21 Lawrence Street, Lawrence, or 1 Lowell Street, Andover (in Shawsheen Square). You can relax and enjoy your trip, whether it is the African Carnival, a leisurely cruise or a skiing holiday, when arrangements are made by Sutton's experienced Travel Consultants.

In Lawrence, you may consult with Betty Couillard owner; Fred Lais; Ann Furdeck; Mrs. Margaret O'Neil; Mrs. Ruth Faro; Cynthia Nault or Margaret O'Brien. In Andover, Mrs. Sarah Pickering and Mrs. Shirley McGill can serve you.

Sutton Travel Service is open daily from 9 till 5:30; Lawrence office open Tues. and Fri. evenings and Saturday mornings.

Secondary School Hours Are Adjusted

Andover junior and senior high school pupils will be starting school half an hour later, from now till winter vacation, on account of the darkness.

The School Committee made the decision Tuesday night, effective today, acting on one of two recommendations by Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert.

Buses which had been picking youngsters up as early as 6:55 a.m. before Daylight Savings Time went into effect, will begin their rounds at 7:25 a.m. The final high school and junior high bells will now ring at 8:15 a.m. instead of 7:45 a.m.

The change, however, will have no effect on elementary youngsters, who will report as usual. And all the schools will return to their regular schedules when they return after vacation Feb. 25.

Seifert's other recommendation was to ask motorists and students to exercise caution in the pre-dawn period they're on the road, while keeping schedules as they are.

While he had previously held to the regular starting times, on the grounds that a change would cause more disruptions than it was worth, letters and phone calls had also generally favored that stand. Seifert reported Monday night that the governor and the State Commissioner of education had both requested a time change for safety's sake.

That was also the prime concern of Andover Police Safety Officer Richard Aumais, in his recommendation this week for later starting time.

The main culprits in the change are the motorists. Seifert said the bus drivers report that the children and the buses are not a problem, but the drivers of the cars are.

They're in a hurry to get to work, Seifert said, adding that to keep school open later in the day would only push their pupils' homecoming more into evening rush hour, and compound the danger. The youngsters will be released from school at the regular time.

High School Principal Philip Wormwood said the morning half hour would be made up by shortening the present 43-minute periods about four minutes each, throughout the day.

After much discussion, the Committeemen seemed to agree that the safety factor would be worth the temporary inconveniences, from now until vacation begins Feb. 15. By the end of vacation, they feel, the sun will be rising early enough to provide safe visibility while the youngsters are on their way to school.

Business Manager Edward Weil reported that Tuesday's sunrise occurred at 8:12 a.m., but that it was light enough to see with clarity at 7:40. That time will occur much earlier after the winter break, he said.

In addition to careless motorists, a concern seemed to be that due to the nature of the community and its lack of sidewalks, many youngsters have to talk in the streets, which can be a further hazard with ice and snow. Many youngsters also seem to wear dark clothing, they said, which makes them more difficult to see.

Committeeman William Lane suggested that the school children be asked to wear brighter clothing so that they can be seen easier.

Town Meeting

There is a question whether the article would effect the FinCom veto power over all special town meetings, or be legally held to the October session.

The third article presented by Bowen would make it a bylaw to have the Finance Committee issue a report to the voters prior to a town meeting containing all details of business pending, and recommendations of their board, the selectmen and planning board.

The report would contain maps, where necessary and all pertinent details regarding action to come before the meeting. The report would be due ten days in advance in the case of an annual meeting and seven days in the case of a special meeting.

The action is to affirm a continuance of reports similar to those which have been issued by the FinCom the past few years prior to the annual town meeting. Bowen was instrumental in designing the more recent FinCom report format.

The flood plain zoning issue faced a difficult time at the October town meeting and is expected to again face stiff opposition.

The planning board feels it important to establish such zoning in the town for protection of the community and property owners adjacent to Shawsheen or prospective tenants of the area.

Federal regulations have dictated such a move the planners note.

The elimination of the Ballardvale sewage treatment plant has become an environmental issue. Seepage from the plant is polluting the Shawsheen river and the town will be seeking $130,000 to eliminate the problem.

There will be presentations by the Conservation Commission for acquisition of properties in various section of the town, and some zoning issues, such as allowing tennis clubs to locate in shopping center areas.

Two bylaw changes will be proposed, one to prohibit consumption of alcoholic beverages on public ways and another to prohibit same in public parks and playgrounds.

Extension of liquor hours in town will also be before the meeting.

Other zoning issues will involve the creation of an apartment district off Beacon Street, again coming before the town, and rezoning of residential land on Central Street, near Chestnut to business or commercial use.

The selectmen will ask the voters for permission to petition the legislature to change the town's representation on the Central Merrimack Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Other items will deal with the acceptance of bequests and accepting or taking easements.

Early observation indicates a comparatively quiet town meeting, but there is sufficient time between now and April to change all that, a not uncommon happening for Andover town meetings.
